ABSTRACT

The Library Career Training Program, Title II-B of the Higher Education Act (HEA), provides grants to institutions of higher education and library organizations or agencies to train persons in librarianship through fellowships, institutes, and traineeships, and to establish, develop, and expand programs of library and information science. The U.S. Department of Education has held annual competitions for fellowships under this program since fiscal year (FY) 1966. This booklet is a synthesis of materials contained in the successful applications for fellowships in FY 91. It is noted that two of the six priorities established by the Library Career Training Program Final Regulations (published in 1988) were cited as absolute priorities for which projects were being invited in FY 91. The two priorities are: (1) to train or retrain library personnel in areas of library specialization where there are currently shortages, such as school media, children's services, young adult services, science reference, and cataloging; and (2) to increase excellence in library leadership through advanced training in library management. The 21 grants awarded in FY 91 for master's, post-master's, and doctoral fellowships supported one or both of these priorities. An abstract for each of the awards is presented in this booklet. The information provided includes the name and address of the institution of higher education receiving the grant; the name, title, and telephone number of the project director; the number and level of fellowships; the amount of funding for FY 1991; the grant period; the grant number; the priority selected; and the project objectives. Seven tables present data on HEA Title II-B fellowship/traineeship funding history from 1966 through 1991, and a map of the states benefiting from this program since FY 1966 concludes the report. Foreword

The Library Career Training Program, Title II–B of the Higher Education Act (HEA), provides grants to institutions of higher education and library organizations or agencies to train persons in librarianship through fellowships, institutes, and traineeships, and to establish, develop, and expand programs of library and information science.

Since fiscal year (FY) 1966, the U.S. Department of Education has held annual competitions for fellowships under this program. To date, awards have totaled $33.2 million to support 16 bachelor's, 53 associate's, 2,852 master's, 253 post-master's, and 1,135 doctoral fellowships, and 77 traineeships. The cumulative totals, by state and institution, are shown in table 1.

This program has also sponsored competitions to fund institutes for training and retraining librarians. However, there was no such competition in FY 91. Please see tables 3–7 for summaries of the Library Training Institute Program.

Since FY 66, the fellowship and institute components of HEA Title II–B have provided funds totaling $52.8 million to assist more than 21,000 persons in training and retraining for library service. Institutions receiving grants do not require fellows or institute participants to pay tuition and fees. Stipends for fellowship recipients (for the academic year and summer) range from $5,400 for master's to $7,400 each for post-master's and doctoral. For fellowships, the institution receives an amount equal to the stipend to cover the cost of training and the cost of waiving tuition and fees. For institutes, costs vary according to duration, number of participants, and administrative costs, including personnel and support services.

This booklet is a synthesis of materials contained in the successful applications for fellowships in FY 91. It has been prepared for use by librarians, counselors, and prospective students of library and information science seeking information about the projects funded under Title II–B of the Higher Education Act.

Individuals interested in receiving a fellowship should apply directly to the grantee institution which has the sole responsibility for selecting recipients or participants, as indicated in sections 776.2 and 776.3 of the program regulations.

On behalf of the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Educational Research and Improvement, we wish to thank the applicants for submitting well-written and carefully planned project applications, and the peer reviewers for their time and effort in reviewing and evaluating these applications.

Thanks are also extended to members of my staff whose efforts have made this publication possible.

Introduction

The Library Career Training Program Final Regulations, published in the Federal Register on May 26, 1988, established six priorities:

(1) To train or retrain library personnel in areas of library specialization where there are currently shortages, such as school media, children's services, young adult services, science reference, and cataloging;

(2) To train or retrain library personnel in new techniques of information acquisition, transfer, and communication technology;

(3) To increase excellence in library leadership through advanced training in library management;

(4) To increase excellence in library education by encouraging study in librarianship and related fields at the doctoral level;

(5) To provide advanced training in the development, structure, and management of new library organizational formats, such as networks, consortia and information utilities; and

(6) To train or retrain library personnel to serve the information needs of the elderly, the illiterate, the disadvantaged, and residents of rural America.

Section 75.105(C)(3) of the Education Department General Administrative Regulations allows the Secretary to give absolute preference to applications that meet a program priority. The Secretary establishes an absolute preference by reserving all or part of a program's funds solely for applications that meet the priority.

The "Notice Inviting Applications" for the FY 91 competition (published by the Secretary of Education in the July 13, 1990, Federal Register) cited priorities 1 and 4 as absolute priorities for which applications for fellowships were being invited. Forty-one applications for fellowships yielded 21 grants. There were also two applications for institutes for which no funds were set aside in FY 91.

The 21 grants made in FY 91 supported one or both of the priorities as follows:

Absolute Priority A (Priority 1 above):

4 applications for training/retraining school library media specialists

5 applications for training/retraining persons for children and young adult services

6 applications for training librarians for science reference

2 applications for training/retraining catalogers (including technologists)

Absolute Priority B (Priority 4 above):

12 applications for increasing excellence in library education by encouraging study in librarianship and related fields at the doctoral level with 6 adding emphasis on research training.

The FY 91 appropriation for HEA Title II–B (Library Career Training and Library Research and Demonstration Programs) was $976,000, with nearly $650,000 available for training activities. The 41 fellowship applications requested 165 fellowships totalling $1.9 million.

A group of 15 dedicated peer reviewers volunteered their time and effort to review and evaluate the 41 applications. Each application was reviewed by three persons, and the three scores were then averaged and ranked from highest to lowest.

FY 91 awards totaling $644,000 were made to 21 institutions of higher education to support 50 post-baccalaureate degrees in library science as follows: 23 master's fellowships were funded for $248,400; 3 post-master's fellowships for $42,400; and 24 doctoral fellowships for $353,200.

Abstracts for each funded project, arranged alphabetically by state, are presented in this booklet.

Alabama

Institution	University of Alabama School of Library and Information Studies Box 870104 Tuscaloosa, Alabama 35487–0104
Project Director	J. Gordon Coleman, Jr. Assistant Dean (205) 348–1523
Number and Level	3 Master's
FY 91 Funding	$32,400
Grant Period	8–1–91 to 10–31–92
Grant Number	R036B10037

Priority Selected

To train or retrain library personnel in areas of library specialization where there are currently shortages, such as school media, children's services, young adult services, science reference, and cataloging.

Project Objective(s)

In addition to the regular objectives of the Master's program, the following objectives guide the program of study:

- To develop an awareness of the central role of emerging information technologies in the operation of libraries and other information agencies;
- To provide opportunities to work with state-of-the art information technologies; and
- To acquaint the fellows with the best current practices for integrating information technologies into libraries and to provide them with the planning skills for utilizing future information technologies.

Alabama

Institution	University of Alabama School of Library and Information Studies Box 870104 Tuscaloosa, Alabama 35487–0104
Project Director	J. Gordon Coleman, Jr. Assistant Dean (205) 348–1523
Number and Level	1 Master's
FY 91 Funding	$10,800
Grant Period	6–1–91 to 8–31–92
Grant Number	R036B10038

Priority Selected

To train or retrain library personnel in areas of library specialization where there are currently shortages, such as school media, children's services, young adult services, science reference and cataloging.

Project Objective(s)

In addition to the regular objectives of the Master's in Library and Information Science program, the objectives of this project are:

- To develop the student's awareness of the function of school library media programs in the curriculum of both an individual school and an entire school system;
- To provide training in planning programs, using instructional design procedures, and selecting or producing instructional materials to meet learner needs; and
- To acquaint the student with technologies required to access a wide variety of information sources to meet curriculum needs.

Alabama

Institution	University of Alabama School of Library and Information Studies Box 870104 Tuscaloosa, Alabama 35487-0104
Project Director	J. Gordon Coleman, Jr. Assistant Dean (205) 348-1523
Number and Level	1 Doctoral
FY 91 Funding	$14,800
Grant Period	8-1-91 to 10-31-92
Grant Number	R036B10001

Priority Selected

To increase excellence in library education by encouraging study in librarianship and related fields at the doctoral level.

Project Objective(s)

- To provide assistance for a student who indicates library education as a primary career interest. In addition to the regular doctoral program objectives, the project sets forth the following goals:
- To develop an awareness of the role of library and information science education in the context of higher education, and the variety of career options in these areas;
- To provide opportunities to serve as an informal teaching assistant or to team teach; and
- To provide opportunities for research in either Youth Services or Information Studies.

Arkansas

Institution	University of Central Arkansas Department of Educational Media/Library Science P.O. Box 4918, UCA Conway, Arkansas 72032
Project Directors	Selvin W. Royal Chairman (501) 450-3177, and Jody B. Charter Associate Professor (501) 450-3177
Number and Level	4 Master's
FY 91 Funding	$43,200
Grant Period	8–1–91 to 10–31–92
Grant Number	R036B10005

Priority Selected

To train or retrain library personnel in areas of library specialization where there are currently shortages, such as school media, children's services, young adult services, science reference, and cataloging.

Project Objective(s)

In addition to assisting local school districts in recruiting professional Black Americans to meet the staffing needs of library media programs, the objectives of this project are:

- To raise the awareness level among Black Americans in Arkansas about the school library media profession;
- To increase the number of Black Americans with professional preparation in library studies at the graduate level; and
- To prepare school library media specialists to function in a leadership role with teachers to introduce and implement the new technologies in instructional settings.

California

Institution	University of California, Berkeley School of Library and Information Studies 2111 Bancroft Way, 5th Floor Berkeley, California 94720

FY 91 Funding	$59,200
Grant Period	9–1–91 to 11–30–92
Grant Number	R036B10013

Priority Selected

To increase excellence in library education by encouraging study in librarianship and related fields at the doctoral level.

Project Objective(s)

- To identify students seeking careers at the university or college level in teaching cataloging and classification, and in the areas of man-machine interface, information-seeking behaviors and the impact of technology upon library services and operations;
- To assure that students have opportunities to demonstrate their ability to conduct effective, disciplined research; and
- To provide means for students to teach in a university environment.

Florida

Institution	Florida State University School of Library and Information Studies Tallahassee, Florida 32306–2048
Project Director	Phyllis Van Orden Associate Dean for Academic Affairs (904) 644–8115
Number and Level	2 Doctoral
FY 91 Funding	$29,600
Grant Period	8–1–91 to 10–31–92
Grant Number	R036B10020

Priority Selected

To increase excellence in library education by encouraging study in librarianship and related fields at the doctoral level.

Project Objective(s)

- To address the national need for librarians with specialties in library services for children and young adults; and
- To recruit and prepare doctoral fellows for careers in teaching and research, and to place them in appropriate positions.

Illinois

Institution	Rosary College Graduate School of Library and Information Science 7900 W. Division Street River Forest, Illinois 60301
Project Director	Michael E.D. Koenig Dean (708) 366-2490
Number and Level	1 Master's
FY 91 Funding	$10,800
Grant Period	8-1-91 to 10-31-92
Grant Number	R036B10019

Priority Selected

To train or retrain library personnel in areas of library specialization where there are currently shortages, such as school media, children's services, young adult services, science references, and cataloging.

Project Objective(s)

- To provide a student with the opportunity to acquire an accredited master's degree with a concentration in science reference. In addition to the standard course of study, the student must complete the following:
- An internship practicum at a major science library;
- A lecture series for practicing science librarians;
- A series of visits to other major science libraries; and
- Database training in science data systems.

Illinois

Institution	University of Illinois Graduate School of Library and Information Science 506 S. Wright Street Urbana, Illinois 61801

FY 91 Funding	$14,800
Grant Period	9–1–91 to 11–30–92
Grant Number	R036B10026

Priority Selected

To increase excellence in library education by encouraging study in librarianship and related fields at the doctoral level.

Project Objective(s)

- To provide, in addition to a regular course of study at the doctoral level, library education in science reference and science database systems. Practica at university science libraries and local hospital libraries as well as opportunities to pursue independent study in science librarianship are components of the science reference specialty.

Indiana

Institution	Indiana University School of Library and Information Science P.O. Box 1847 Bloomington, Indiana 47402

FY 91 Funding	$29,600
Grant Period	10–1–91 to 12–31–92
Grant Number	R036B10017

Priority Selected

To increase excellence in library education by encouraging study in librarianship and related fields at the doctoral level.

Project Objective(s)

- To identify and recruit individuals with outstanding potential for teaching and research in library and information science;
- To provide participants with opportunities to team teach with faculty; and
- To provide participants with opportunities to engage in team and individual research projects (in addition to dissertation research).

Louisiana

Institution	Louisiana State University School of Library and Information Science Baton Rouge, Louisiana 70803
